

Address: Max Planck Institute for Astronomy Heidelberg, Germany
Email: brandner@mpia.de, web: <https://wolfbrandner.github.io>
phone: +49 6221 528 289,

Professional Timeline:

- PhD: 1996, University of Würzburg, Germany; thesis advisors Harald W. Yorke and Hans Zinnecker
- Post-doc: 1997, University of Illinois at Urbana-Champaign
- Post-doc: 1998, Caltech/Jet Propulsion Laboratory (NASA)
- Assistant astronomer (faculty): 1999, University of Hawaii (member of Adaptive Optics Group)
- Associate Astronomer: 2001, European Southern Observatory (Instrument Scientist for NAOS-CONICA)
- Staff Scientist: since 2002, Max Planck Institute for Astronomy (lead of Exolmaging Research Group)
- Visiting Professor at UCLA: 2006-2007 (with group of Andrea Ghez)

Research Highlights:

- Main research areas: Exoplanets, star formation in dense stellar clusters, infrared observations and instrumentation
- 350+ refereed publications – see Google Scholar Profile at <https://scholar.google.com/citations?user=wPxAf8AAAAJ&hl=en>
- Co-editor of books and proceedings on star formation, planet formation, and science with adaptive optics
- Col of the GRAVITY-Instrument for the Very Large Telescope Interferometer of the European Southern Observatory
- Member of the METIS (ELT) science team and METIS Calibration Sci.
- Member of the ANDES (ELT) consortium and MPA project lead for the ANDES K-band spectrograph
- Member of the Roman/Coronagraphic Instrument Community Participation Programme and MPA deputy in the core team
- PI on HST and JWST programmes on giant planets and brown dwarfs

Grant awards:

- NASA- and DLR-grants in support of Hubble Space Telescope observing programmes:
<http://edok01.tib.uni-hannover.de/edoks/e01fb11/669202819l.pdf>
- AAS, AG and DFG travel grants, ESO PhD grants

Community service:

- Peer Reviewer: A&A, AJ, ApJ, MNRAS, Nature, ...
- Research and observing proposal reviews: ESO, SPITZER, CAHA, OPTICON, CFHT (Taiwanese Time, external expert), ERC/REA (FP7, Horizon2020 Horizon Europe), DFG (Germany), FWF (Austria), ANR (France), OTKA (Hungary), GAČR (Czech Republic), ...